If they click on trash they can delete the promotion or if they click plus they can create a new promotion
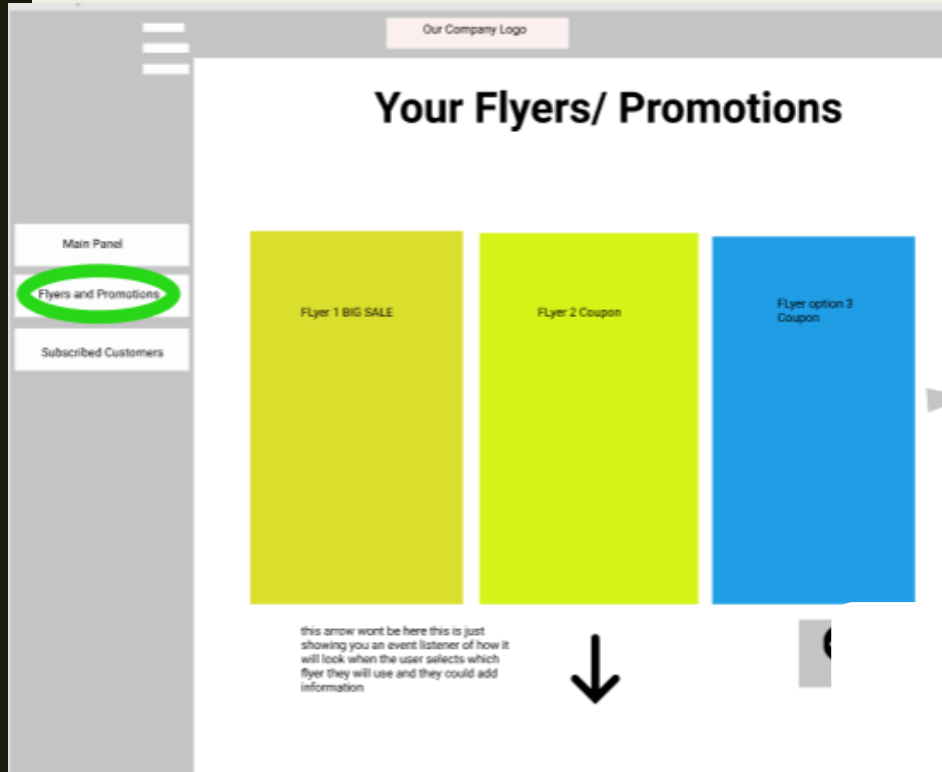

Merchants

When they click on the plus they can add a new promotion which will send them to the promotion panel in which they can select the type of promotion and fill it out
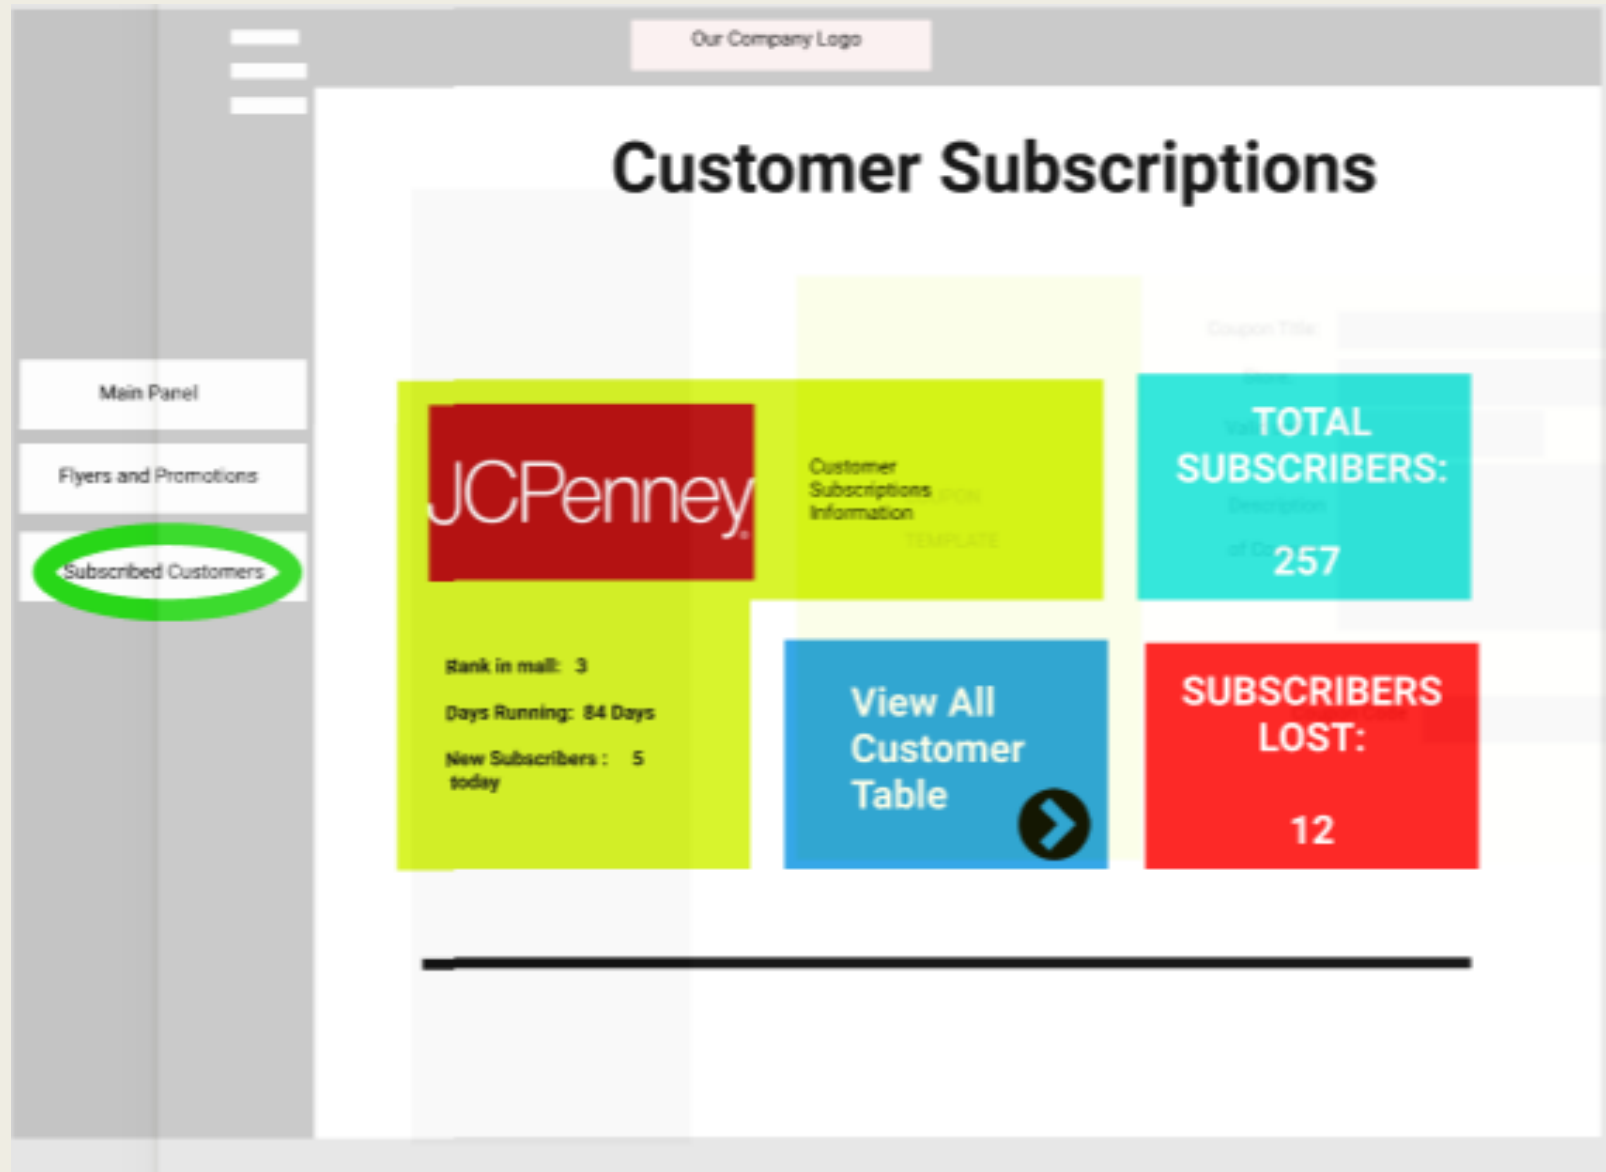

Merchants

When they click on one promotion type a new window in the same page using JavaScript will appear and create a form for you to publish the promotion

Once they finish adding information they can hit publish and it will redirect them to the Flyers and Promotions main screen where they can see all promotions

Merchants

Here they can view the store Subscribers count, lost and other details. The only button in the page will be "View all Customer Table" the others are just display divs. They can clock on the Vial all customers table to see a list of all the current subscribed customers
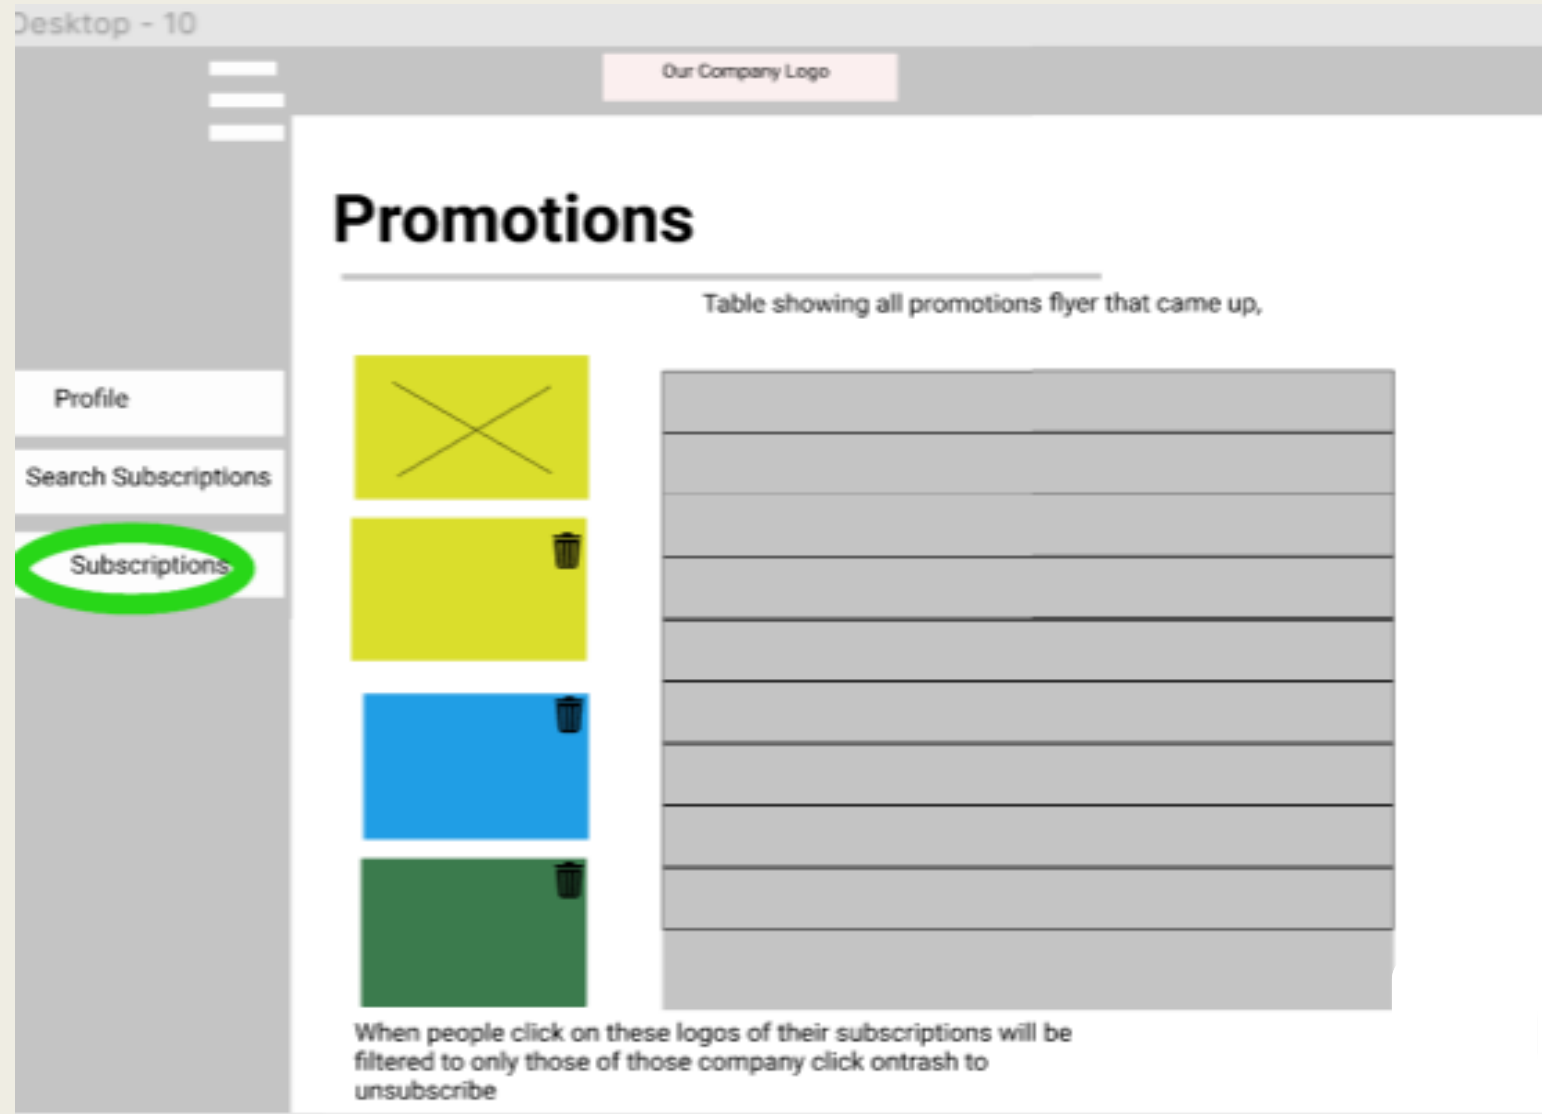

Merchants
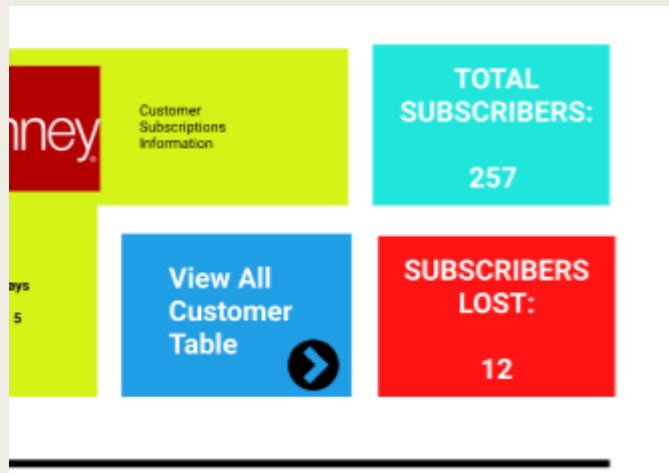

When they click on the view all customers table button they will get sent to this page
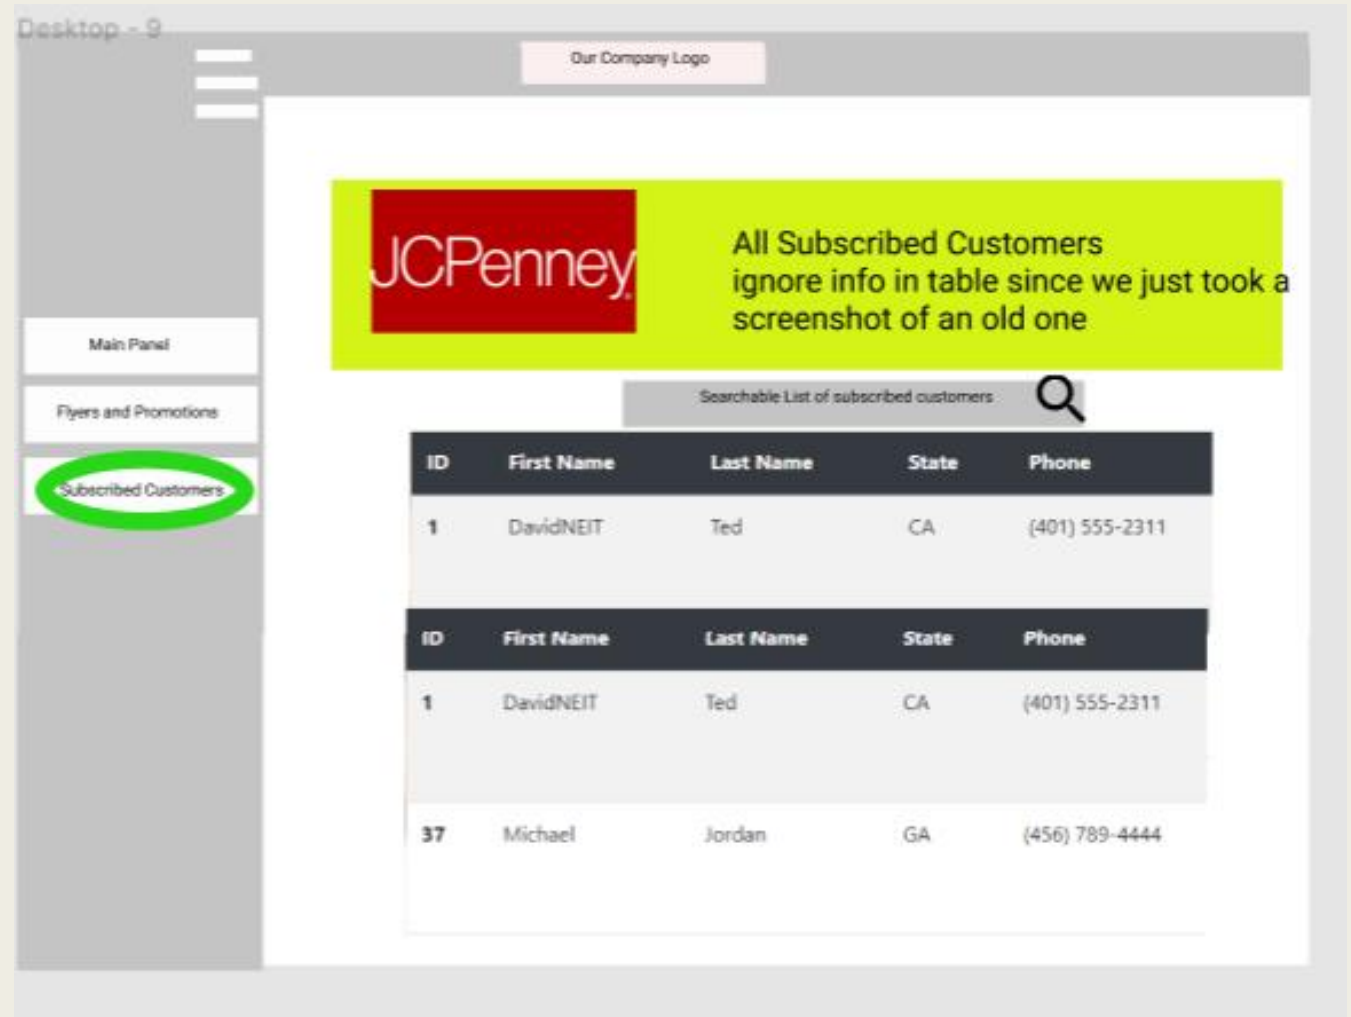

Here they will be able to view a table with all the current subscribed customers. Please ignore table columns since its just an example. But they will also be able to search and filter table of subscribers

Customers

This is the page where the customer can see all their subscriptions and promotions come in order of which they were published. When they click the trash icon it will delete their subscription

Customers

This is the profile section where the user can update the profile info

When the user clicks on search subscriptions they will be sent back to the main page of the website where they can view other stores.
